Don't be in locker limbo Sign up for storage space the proper way

By JEFFREY HALL

Lockers are a necessary for many students on the college. But if you have not signed up online for a locker this past year, the university may have a surprise for you when you sign up the proper way.

The year before you sign up, a self-administered system, meaning the design goes through the college system and signs up.

But this system is not the best way to sign up for a locker. The best way to sign up for a locker is to go to the college's website and sign up for a locker. The college's website will have a link to the locker sign-up page.

When you sign up for a locker, you will be asked to provide your name, your email address, and your phone number. You will also be asked to provide your locker number.

Once you have signed up for a locker, you will be able to use it for the rest of the year. You will also be able to use it for the rest of the year.

Currently, it is possible to sign up for a locker without signing up the proper way. But if you do not sign up the proper way, you will be in locker limbo.

"There will be a self-administered system that will allow you to sign up for a locker. But if you do not sign up the proper way, you will be in locker limbo."

Some people do not go through the self-administered system and simply sign up for a locker.

"There will be a self-administered system that will allow you to sign up for a locker. But if you do not sign up the proper way, you will be in locker limbo."

Cheryl Morgan, a college career advisor, says that she has seen many students who have signed up for a locker without signing up the proper way. She says that these students are in locker limbo.

Men's rugby team captures their first win of the season

By JIM PARSON

Cambridge's men's rugby team captured their first win of the season after defeating the Fleming University team 24-14 at Bell Street Stadium Field in Cambridge Sept. 24.

The victory gave the team a record of 1-1, one game under the 500 mark.

Robert Allen Young led the team by scoring three tries for a total of 12 points. Other tries in the game came from Vincente Aguiar, Braden and Andrew Down.

Two players left the game with injuries, including Bell with a fractured thumb and various knee injuries with a concussion.

Young led Henry Lee played well for the Cavaliers this season making two transfers after two and making three penalties.
